THE RING RECORD BOOK

FOREWORD

I'll refrain from apologizing—again—for the failure to publish a Ring Record Book in 1986. The reasons for that failure are described in sufficient detail in the ads for the current edition appearing in The Ring Magazine. Let me stress the positive and say that I sincerely believe this to be the finest record/reference book ever produced on boxing.

I say this with particular regard to the records of world champs and other past greats. This is a new Ring Record Book—new in that every record has been reviewed, with at least ninety percent of them undergoing revision. Missing bouts, dates, and places have been found and carefully inserted, and all records are now in one handsome typeface. Two features bare some special comment.

The first is recognition of the technical knockout (TKO). Having The Ring Record Book break down what had hitherto been lumped together as "KO" into "KO" and "TKO" specifications is comparable to having an actor in the kabuki theatre go into a song and dance. A lot of thought went into the decision, and it was finally decided that the 'shoulds' outweighed the "should nots." Most of the considerations were practical, and it was chiefly due to the superb research of Prof. Luckett V. Davis, who has included TKOs in his compilations of hundreds of old-time fight records, that the decision was made to show technical kayoes in The Ring Record Book.

There are only two major areas of jurisdiction in the boxing world which fail to recognize "technical knockouts"—Australia and the state of California. Faced with that, and the increasingly accurate state of record keeping in general, it was decided that it would be feasible to include TKO designations for current fighters. (Many foreign countries are even more specific than TKO—listing "rsc" (referee stopped contest), "ret" (corner retirement), and "inj" (injury). Dedicated chroniclers like Eric Armit have been using these designations in all record compilations for many years.

The other two arguments are tradition and accuracy of description. Many will be quick to point out the late Nat Fleischer's declaration: "There is no such thing as a technical knockout." The statement appeared near the front of nearly every edition of The Ring Record Book ever edited by Mr. Fleischer. I respect Nat Fleischer, a fine gentleman I had the distinct pleasure of meeting on several occasions before his death in 1972. His words on the subject of the "TKO," however, were quite different in the 1930s—years before the first (1941) Ring Record Book appeared. Writing in The Ring Magazine, N.F. declared that "stpd." was the correct way for a record book to list a contest halted by the referee.

Why this reversal of form in later years? Mr. Fleischer was, it must be remembered, a publisher with deadlines for his magazines and record books. Material in The All-Time Ring Record Books of the early 1940s was drawn largely from earlier record books—Police Gazette, T.S. Andrews, Everlast, and Post. None of these included TKOs.

As for accuracy of description: "There are technical knockouts and technical knockouts," as boxing scholar Tim Leone observed at a meeting of the Int. Boxing Research Organization in Washington, D.C. in 1986. While it may seem a shame to call a man clearly winning his fight until an unfortunate cut forces his retirement a "KO" loser, there is ample justification in calling a man who has been hammered from one corner to the next until a merciful referee comes to his rescue the loser by a knockout. The "technical knockout" is not perfect with regard to describing the action of a fight. Neither is an official decision. But technical knockouts do, at least, differentiate between endings like the one in the first Clay-Liston fight and Sugar Ray Robinson's "perfect punch" kayo of Gene Fullmer.

I have included TKOs in all American records for 1985 and 1986 (in some cases, before then), and have tried, in all European records, and, in at least eighty percent of all records for South America and South Africa. Some TKOs are designated as such in Japanese records, but we were unable to supply them for Korea, the Philippines, Thailand, and the Pan Pacific area. The old-timers and former champs are by and large complete re. TKOs. In other words, the book has been converted to include technical knockouts by dint of hard work and main force. It wasn't easy, but the fruits are there. So mote it be.

The second subject worthy of discussion is the inclusion of "newspaper decisions" in records of the old-timers. They are as accurate a consensus of contemporary newspaper opinion for each bout in question as could reasonably be gathered. Roughly seventy-five percent are incontrovertible. The remainder are at least as accurate as any official decision would have been regarding the outcome of each bout. We have reviewed a number of newspaper decisions since the last edition, and have reversed the verdicts re. the Tunney vs. Gibbons (now called a win for Tunney) and Driscoll vs. Philadelphia Pal Moore (formerly a win for Driscoll, now a draw). Newspaper decisions, while extremely interesting and elucidating much discussion with respect to certain bouts, are at the same time extremely valuable in evaluating the careers of many of the old-timers. One is struck by the remarkable record of Harry Greb, and, at the same time, is able to appreciate just why Al McCoy was called the "cheese champion."

The championship claims of many title "claimants" have been thoroughly reviewed, with many new claimants recognized and some of the old ones dropping out under close scrutiny. (It was decided to throw out the Int. Boxing Union title claimants, since most of the IBU sanctioned "world" title bouts were simply European championship contests with global significance added as an afterthought. The titles, moreover, soon evaporated. The IBU, for instance, sanctioned the Edouard Tenet-Joseph Besselman bout as a world title bout as well as a European championship affair, but failed to convey world championship status on Bep Van Klaveren when he beat Tenet in the latter's first European title defense.) The introduction of new claimants, the linear listing of all fights with dates (as opposed to the way many prelim bouts were given in the old books), the inclusion of many hitherto unavailable bouts, and the recognition of International (IBF) champs as "legitimate" claimants have swelled the championship section considerably, and The Ring Record Book will probably have to be split up into two books before long one "All-Time" edition with the complete records of all world champs of the past, hundreds of records of noteworthy "old-timers" who failed to win world titles, and miscellaneous encyclopedic material; and a yearly edition, with records of thousands of current fighters, a directory of boxing, and a review of the previous year. The Sporting News, baseball's semi-official publisher of annual reference books, produces several volumes on the current game alone, if any comparisons are needed.

Six fights is now the normal minimum for inclusion in The Ring Record Book, although some exceptions have been made. NABF flyweight Paul Gonzales has had only five pro bouts, which clearly shows how important amateur experience has become vis-a-vis a pro career. With an eye to this, I have included historical lists of National AAU/USABF, National Golden Gloves, and Pan American champions in addition to those usually supplied for the Olympic gold medalists.

A system of simultaneous record keeping and typesetting has been perfected which will enable this book to be issued each and every year in March—at a cost which will ensure its continued publication. Next year's edition should be even better than this one, with more records of current American fighters and several new features.

Many thanks are in order, but most of them must go to Prof. Luckett V. Davis of Rock Hill, South Carolina, who, as chairman of the records department of the Int. Boxing Research Organization (IBRO), prepared most of the old-timers' records in this book. This 1986 Ring Record Book and Boxing Encyclopedia is as much his as it is mine. Luckett, this book's for you, to borrow a phrase from one of The Ring Magazine's former advertisers.

Other boxing scholars and researchers lent their time and fruits, including Andre Collin of France, who combed old newspapers in small French cities to obtain scarce information. M. Collin compiled the record of Marcel Thil in the world middleweight championship section of this book, and supplied a lot of other hitherto unavailable information concerning contests held in France.

Thanks must also go to Jack Kincaid, who dove through old New York and Brooklyn newspapers for records of outstanding fighters of the 1910s, to Paul Zabala, who painstakingly went through old papers in and around Albany, to Bob Soderman, who diligently searched Chicago newspapers for fight results, to Gary Phillips and Chuck Johnston of California, John Hogg of Australia, Tracy Callis of Virginia, Scotland's Roy Morris, Jerry Fitch of Cleveland, Laurence Fielding, Dave Bloch, Lawrence Roberts (who compiled Tommy Burns' early record), and Tim Leone of St. Louis, who took time off from running his fine film production company to do research on Archie Moore, Sam Langford, Battling Shaw, and other fighters far too numerous to mention.

The venerable Gilbert Odd supplied most of the data on pre-1946 British fighters. Mr. Odd, the former editor of Boxing News, has long been the dean of fistic writers in his native England. Gilbert (if I may), it's been an honor.

Sincere "thank yous" also go to the great record keepers on present day fighters: Dave Hartoon of Michigan; Dean Lohuis of California; Ralph Citro, the editor and publisher of Computer Boxing Update, who graciously provided 1986 logs for most of the eastern U.S. fighters featured in this volume; Florida's Enrique Encinosa; Michel Gladu of Canada, who also served as the Canadian historical editor; Eric Armit, whose records of boxers in all parts of the globe have provided The Ring Record Book with a fine anchor over the last few editions; Ron Olver, who compiled the British records; Ron Jackson of South Africa; Don Marks of Australia; Joe Koizumi and Masahiro Miyazaki of Japan; Korea's Yoo-Chang Kim; and, last, but certainly not least, South America's Ricardo F. Solana.

Since this is a "double edition," it was decided to include all records which would have appeared in the 1986 edition, regardless of whether those boxers had engaged in any contests after 1985. (The 1988 Ring Record Book will return to the familiar one-year format.) Robert and Linda Yalen, who provided complete data on all world title bouts for both 1985 and 1986, have my deepest thanks.

A good deal of the enormous amount of labor that produced this volume was mechanical in nature, and a chronicle of the aggravation suffered by this editor would be of very small interest to the boxing fan. My very sincere thanks to Richard Constant of Constant Graphics/J. Schiller, Inc., who gave me literally all the help he could over the past two years. Richard Schiller's technical wizardy played a great role in setting up the typesetting system I have alluded to, and a tip of the Goldman sombrero likewise goes to him.

Additional thanks to Carol and Friedita Jacildo, who typed in what turned out to be the major portion of the 1986 foreign records, Betsy Kelly, the graphic artist whose fine work was equalled only by her patience, and Denis Blanck, our publisher, for his kind support.

It's taken money, more time and labor than I could have ever imagined, and a great deal of expertise from all quarters to do it, but The Ring Record Book has been saved. It can once again be published cost effectively, on time, and with pride. May it continue to be published for many years to come—as long as men have fists, a heart, and reverence for fine tradition.

AND BOXING ENCYCLOPEDIA

HEAVYWEIGHTS

JAMES FIGG

(First Heavyweight Champion)

Born, 1695, Thane, Oxfordshire, Eng. Weight, 185 lbs. Height, 6 ft.

James Figg came to the front as a fistic professor about 1719. Prior to that date he was known as a successful swordsman and cudgel expert, but when he opened an academy devoted principally to boxing, his fame spread, and it was not long before he was universally recognized as the champion of England. His academy was called Figg's Amphitheatre, and its proprietor was ready at all times to accomodate any challenger looking for a match.

Among those he defeated about 1720 were: Timothy Buck, Tom Stokes, Bill Flanders, and others.

In 1723, Figg defeated Chris Clarkson in a fierce battle of half an hour.

Other boxing academies sprung up in London and there was considerable rivalry between them.

Figg fought Ned Sutton three times, winning all three battles. In the first one the men fought with cudgels and then with their fists.

Died, December 8, 1734, London, Eng.

Elected to Boxing Hall of Fame, 1954.

GEORGE TAYLOR

Born, 1718. Was known as George the Barber. Claimed title upon Figg's retirement. Lost to Jack Broughton, 1738, but became proprieter of Figg's Amphitheatre at the latter's death. He beat Jack Slack in 14 minutes on January 31, 1750, but was defeated by Tom Faulkner in an hour and 15 minutes in a contest of great skill and courage. Taylor, who was blind in one eye, lost complete sight in that fight and died three months later, in December, 1758.

JACK BROUGHTON

Born, 1704. Weight, 196 lbs. Height, 5 ft. 10½ in.

Jack Broughton was the third recognized heavyweight champion of the prize ring. His name has come down in fistic history as the Father of Boxing because it was he, in 1743, who first drew up and put into action a set of rules governing contests between the ropes, rules which provided the foundation for those sponsored by the Marquess of Queensberry when bare knuckles gave way to the gloves.

Broughton fought from 1729 to 1750, defeating Tom Pipes and Bill Gretting and then beating George Taylor for the championship in 1738. He was dethroned by Jack Slack, who beat him in fourteen minutes on April 10, 1750. Broughton then retired. He died inLondon at the age of eighty-five, leaving an estate of $35,000, a goodly sized fortune for that period.

Died, January 8, 1789, London, Eng.

Elected to Boxing Hall of Fame, 1954.

JACK SLACK

Fourth heavyweight champion of England. Born, Norfolk, Eng. Weight, 202 lbs. Height, 5 ft. 8½ in.

In 1744, he whipped Daniel Smith, and beat him again in less than 20 minutes on November 12 of the same year. He fought and won several bouts at the London Amphitheatre during that period, but suffered a reverse when George Taylor knocked him out in 25 minutes, on January 31, 1750.

On October 12, 1748 Slack stopped Ned Hunt in 40 minutes.

On April 10, 1750, Slack won the heavyweight championship by defeating Jack Broughton in 14 minutes. Broughton's backer, the Duke of Cumberland, wagered and lost $250,000 on Broughton.

On July 8, 1751, Slack beat a giant Frenchman, Monsieur Petit, in 25 minutes, and on March 13, 1755, he knocked out Cornelius Harris in 20 minutes. On October 20, 1759, the champion whipped Jack Moreton in 35 minutes. Slack lost the title on June 17, 1760, when he was decisively beaten by William Stevens, the "Nailer," and retired. He died in 1778.

BILL STEVENS

Born, 1736. Weight, 190 lbs. Height, 5 ft. 10 in.

Bill Stevens, better known to the Fancy as "The Nailer," engaged in several minor contests of which no records are available. His first officially listed battle was with Jacob Taplin, at Marylebone Basin, which he won on a clean knockout in 30 minutes. Other battles were as follows:

June 17—Stephens defeated Jack Slack for the title by a knockout in 17 mins.

1761

Mar. 2—Stevens lost to George Meggs in 17 mins.

In his next bout, he was defeated by Turner.

Later, he was matched with John Maguire on July 4, 1769, and beat him in 20 minutes. His last battle was with Harry Sellers in June, 1778, the latter winning in 10 mins.

Died, 1781, London, Eng.

GEORGE MEGGS, THE COLLIER

Had little boxing skill. Won the championship by defeating Bill Stevens, "The Nailer," in London, March 2, 1761, in 17 minutes. Meggs was a fighter of inferior ability, and the contest was undoubtedly a fake. Lost to Millson, "The Baker," at Calne, Wilshire, 40 minutes, July 2, 1762. He lost to Tom Tyne, 1787, twice and beat Joe Ward, 1790.

GEORGE MILLSON

Millson was a baker in Bath, England. In July, 1762, he won the title by defeating George Meggs in a stubbornly contested battle lasting 40 minutes in Calne, Wiltshire. Meggs demanded a return, but Millson beat him easily the second time, that contest being fought the following month, in August, 1762.

Parfitt Meggs, a countryman, no relation to George, also challenged Millson, but the baker gave him a severe beating.

Millson success-fully defended his title against all comers for the next three years. He lost his title to Tom Juchau, August 27, 1765.

TOM JUCHAU

Tom Juchau, known as "The Disher" or "The Paviour," came into prominence by beating Charles Cohant, a butcher, in a grueling battle held in Guildford, Surrey, lasting 50 minutes. He won the title by defeating Millson in a hard-fought battle near St. Alban's.

Juchau subsequently lost his title to Bill Darts at Guildford, May, 1766.

BILL DARTS

(Champion of England 1764)

Born, 1741. Weight, 187 lbs. Height, 5 ft. 10 in.

Fought Tom Juchau at Guildford, in May, 1766. The bout lasted forty minutes, Juchau being knocked out. Darts whipped Dogget, the Bargeman in 20 mins.

1767

Oct. 13—Darts beat Swansey, the Butcher, in 15 mins. at Epping Forest.

1769

June 27—Lyons, the Waterman, defeated Darts in 45 minutes and claimed the championship at Kingston.

1770

Mar. 25—Darts beat Death (Stephen) Oliver in 27 minutes.

1771

May 18—Darts lost to Peter Corcoran.

British sportsmen claimed that Capt. O'Kelly, famous turfman, bribed Darts with 100 pounds to lose the fight and Darts thereafter was ostracized by sportsmen.

TOM LYONS

A waterman from Kingston-upon-Thames, he took the title from Bill Darts in Kingston on June 27, 1769. Lyons was really nothing more than a crude amateur, and Darts gave him a severe beating for the first 25 minutes of the battle. Lyons, however, had a tremendous capacity for punishment, and the tide soonturned. He vanquished Darts in a total of 45 minutes.

Lyons' face was badly cut in the fight, and when the cuts did not heal readily, he announced his retirement from the ring and "returned the championship" to Darts.

PETER CORCORAN

Corcoran, the first Irishman to win the title, beat four Englishmen (Turner, Dalton, Davis, and Smiler The Bricklayer) within a year and challenged Darts, the champion.

Corcoran defeated Darts on May 18, 1771 and defended the crown against a host of foes, including Sam Peters, whom he beat in June, 1774. He lost the title to Harry Sellers on October 10, 1776.

HARRY SELLERS

Born, 1783, Bristol, England. Weight, 190 lbs. Height, 6 ft.

John Gully, son of a Bristol butcher, was in a debtor's prison, when Henry Pearce, twenty-first heavyweight champion, paid him a visit. Gully had some reputation as a boxer and Pearce sparred with him in his jail quarters.

Gully made such a good showing that the news went abroad, and a British sportsman named Fletcher

Reid, paid Gully's debts, had him discharged from custody and pitted him against Pearce on October 8, 1805. Gully was beaten after a sixty-four round fight, lasting one hour and seventeen minutes, but the loser's reputation was greatly enhanced by the splendid fight he made.

When Pearce retired as a result of ill health, Gully was universally recognized as his successor to the title. Two years later, on October 14, 1807, Gully met Bob Gregson at Six Mile Bottom. Gully and Gregson fought a terrific battle of 36 rounds, Gully winning. They met again on May 10, 1808, at Woburn. Gully won in eight rounds.

He became wealthy and in 1832, as the result of a bet, became a candidate for Parliament. He was elected, served two terms, and then resigned.

Tom Spring might best be described as the Jim Corbett of his time, for he excelled in speed, grace and scientific boxing but never earned the reputation of a hard hitter. Like Mendoza, he did much toward eliminating the crude slugging methods of the ring. His first professional engagement was with John Hollands, a giant in size, whom he defeated quickly through sheer cleverness.

JAMES (DEAF) BURKE

Born, December 8, 1809, St. Giles, London, Eng. Weight, 175 lbs. Height, 5 ft. 8½ in.

James Burke, later to be known as "the Deaf Un" in ring circles, was working as a waterman on the Thames River, when he made the acquaintance of a veteran fighter, Joe Parish, who taught him how to box and stirred the lad's ambition to become a star slugger. Parish put Burke against big Ned Murphy for a $70 purse. The contest lasted for fifty rounds, but darkness coming on, it was declared a draw and the stake divided. That was on February 4, 1828, and Burke's showing was so good that he was matched to fight Thomas (Bull) Hands. The old time fighters were continually in jail for breaking the peace following one of their battles, and Bendigo was no exception to the rule. When he was in prison for the twenty-eighth time Bendigo was strangely moved by a sermon delivered by the prison chaplain, and on his release embarked on a new career as an evangelist. His curious phraseology and quaint method of expressing himself drew vast crowds to his meetings in London and other big cities. He settled down to live at Nottingham, where he was greatly respected, and died there in 1880. On June 2, 1891, a memorial was set up at Nottingham.

A huge crowd of curiously assorted people who had known Bendigo as bruiser, saloon keeper and preacher, attended the unveiling ceremony. The memorial is in the form of a life size sleeping lion carved in stone, mounted on a pedestal. An inscription reads, "In Memory of William Thompson (Bendigo), who died Aug. 23, 1880, aged 69. In life always brave, fighting like a lion, in death like a lamb, tranquil in Zion."

Died, August 23, 1880, Nottingham, Eng.
